

The Carmel Pine Cone Cymbal

Honor Roll Cleanup To Start Wed.

Mayor P. A. McCreery this week took action calculated to still the mutterings that have been going on about town for over a year to the effect that the honor roll is "a mess." He established an honor roll committee consisting of Fred Bechdolt, Ernest Schweninger, Mrs. Frank Bell, and on the insistence of Fred Bechdolt, agreed to head the committee himself.

The honor roll was started the spring of last year by several citizens who, after three months, turned it over to the Civilian Defense. That office was too busy to handle it, and following an appeal in the Pine Cone for someone to assume responsibility, the late City Clerk Saidee Van Brower undertook to keep it in order. Following her death Mrs. Frank Bell, who had done the work of lettering the names on the roll in Fortier's window from the time the roll was established, continued in her capacity as scribe entering names on the roll as they were phoned in to her by relatives and friends of the service men but did not attempt to weed out those who did not belong on the roll, or to make corrections as she had no authority to do so.

Following each publication of the roll in the Pine Cone, the dissatisfaction has increased and a demand for a definite policy as to who should be included on the roll led to McCreery's action this week.

Kaufmann Drama Chosen for Next Playhouse Play

At a general meeting of theatre lovers held at the Playhouse last Monday evening a score or so of plays were listed and discussed as possibilities for the next local production. From the list Playhouse director Edward Kuster has chosen as best suited to the times, as well as most practicable for casting and staging, "The Dark Tower," a modern melodrama by Alexander Woolcott and George S. Kaufmann which thrilled and amused Broadway several years ago. Rehearsals of portions of the play are already in progress, but a number of roles are yet to be filled, principally male characters. It is requested that interested persons communicate during the day with Agnes Baron, Carmel 1205-J, or in the evening by personal interview with the director at the Playhouse.

The last Playhouse production, was "Ah, Wilderness," both an artistic and financial success. It aroused considerable interest in the talent departments of several Hollywood picture companies, and Edward Kuster has on file a number of letters requesting opportunity to "scout" the next play of the Carmel Players.

"The Dark Tower" is scheduled for August 14, 15, 21 and 22.

Sharks, Kayaks and the Movie Show He Didn't See Subjects of Letter Home From Seaman Guilford Singa Frolich

While his cargo vessel rode at anchor in a tropical bay, Merchant Marine Guilford Singa Frolich had time to fish for yellow tail and bonitos, have a temperamental kayak sink from under him, and to write a letter home which his father, Finn Frolich, Carmel sculptor, received early this week.

"There are hundreds of minnows around the ship and they are preyed on by yellow tails two to three feet long and by bonitos and other fish. The crew has caught some 30 pound ones. The other day we sighted a six foot shark. We had seen him for a couple of days so all swimming over the stern has stopped.

"We rowed ashore in a little kayak about a week ago. On the way back the white caps filled the boat faster than we could bail out so we sank about a quarter of a mile from our ship. My friend could not swim, but he had on a life jacket that had washed ashore which luckily I had made him wear. It took about 45 minutes to push the kayak back to the ship against a small tide. We were certainly tired, and it was dark, too. We had hiked several miles along the coral reef and in a coconut grove.

"The next day two of the crew started for the opposite shore a couple of miles away. I warned them about the kayak's sea worthiness, but they tried it. Did I have a laugh when they had to abandon it and swim back over a mile and a half against the tide. So now there is no way of getting ashore any more.

"The natives may build us a dugout canoe with outrigger for a five spot, but we can not get ashore to deal with them. The canoes are carved out of a tree about 12 feet long. I should like to bring one home so I could use it at Anaheim Landing. We were waiting for a shore boat to take us ashore today to the movies shown to the Army and Navy, but none came."

So to console himself for being forgotten and marooned on board when shore was so enticingly near, he cheerfully sets about describing a former shore visit.

"We actually saw two women. They were Army nurses. How they were cheered! The theatre consists of projection shack. The audience sits on coconut tree trunks placed on the ground on both sides of the screen. Of course those on the wrong side have to be able to read backward. At least the sound is not reversed.

"Then we hitch hiked to the docks via army trucks and bummed a ride on a loading barge to get back to the ship.

"If I get ashore again, I will try to get a couple of sprouting coconuts like one I brought home from Hawaii, and plant them next to the house."

Time to Burn

Though the fire department for several weeks has been burning off dry grass areas during its Thursday night drills, there are still nearly a hundred fire hazards in the grass and trash covered lots throughout the town. They should have immediate attention for the grass fire season has arrived, heralded with a grass fire Tuesday afternoon on the T. B. Goodman lot on Carpenter between Second and Third. The fire department, with its usual prompt and efficient action, got this fire under control in short order. Nevertheless, prevention is the strongest safeguard against disaster—and a sizeable fire in this tree studded town would spell disaster—so that Fire Marshall Robert Leidig is issuing his annual warning this week for property owners to take prompt action in clearing or burning the dry grass off their vacant lots.

They must take this action in any case as they are required by city ordinance to clear off their lots at this season. Why not do so immediately rather than wait the full number of days of grace allowed after the posting of notices, and thus close the door on one of the means of entry for Carmel's ever-present menace.

No Relief From Corrugations

The switch in commissionerships at the City Council meeting last week by which L. L. Dewar was placed in control of the fire department and new Councilman Fred Mylar was made chief of the chuck-hole department is good and bad.

Mylar, who as assistant post master has had ample experience in handling complaints cheerfully and tactfully, is ideally suited to preside over the street department which as a matter of record has to handle more kicks per capita than all the other city departments rolled into one.

But there is a disadvantage in giving him the job of listening to the chuck-hole troubles of the community. He's too available. Dewar, whose business hours are spent in Monterey, couldn't be button-holed on the spur of the moment to listen to extemporaneous (Continued on page 4)

Taxpayers Riled Over Information Bureau Support

The other side of the information bureau question, presented by the people who pay the bills, will be aired when the City Council meets at 5:30 tonight in special session.

At the council meeting last week a delegation of Carmel citizens appeared before the members urging the allocation of city funds to the tune of $62.50 a month for partial support of the community information service, which is no longer able to survive as a private enterprise. According to the plan presented by the citizens seeking city aid for the bureau, the Business Association is to contribute half the cost, putting up a sum to match the city donation.

Frederick Godwin Describes Great Review at Beale

Honorable P. A. McCreery, Mayor, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California.

Dear Mayor McCreery,
May I take this opportunity to express to you my appreciation for the privilege I enjoyed representing the City of Carmel at the mass christening, and the naming of a mighty weapon for the City of Carmel: a weapon part of the Thirteenth Armored Division now known as "California's Own."

It is most unfortunate that the many bleacher war deadweights were not present to cheer as the 15,000 present gave their unanimous approval of such fine trained youths and the speed and might of this armored division. I have seen our flag raised on many occasions, but never have I seen Old Glory so proud.

I think you will be interested in some of the pertinent facts of the California Thirteenth Division. As the following was divulged over a loud speaker, there is no question of its being a military secret.

The tank named for the City of Carmel is known as an Assault Tank: Carriages 75 m.m. howitzers and M 8 anti-aircraft: is very fast and does its job in softening up the enemy. The four boys, Commander-Loader-Radio Operator and Gunner have signed a program with their addresses for your memento.

Three hundred and seventy-one tanks were dedicated to cities and counties in this state, and three hundred forty-three cities and counties were represented. The boys of this division are not all California boys: in fact three of the boys in the Carmel Tank were from out of the state.

The tremendous strength of this division can be realized if one knows that in one second, seventy-five thousand rounds are fired: this equals three and one half tons of lead and steel, and also equals the firing power of both sides in the Battle of Gettysburg. If the unit left Marysville in military line, the first unit would be in San Francisco before the last unit had left Marysville. It would take 65 trains of 32 cars each, or 2,100 cars to carry what has been named for this great state.

The highlight of the revue happened as the large tanks appeared directly in front of the Governor's stand: with the dust and noise of hundreds of tanks, from nowhere it seemed, came roaring fighter planes flying so low they disappeared in the dust of the tanks, and then bombers appeared flying (Continued on page 4)

This week aroused tax payers, owners of large blocks of property both in the business and residential sections of the town have been storming the mayor and council members with their protests. They indicated that they would carry those protests to the council meeting this evening, when the attorney for the Business Association is expected to present any data he can find that might give legal justification for the city's making such a donation.

At the last meeting the council, with the exception of Fire Commissioner L. L. Dewar, showed a marked lack of enthusiasm for the proposal of the information bureau supporters, but in the face of the solid front they presented at the meeting, put off definite action to give time for the Business Association attorney to find an answer to the city attorney's statement that allocating city money for the support of the bureau would "be skating on very thin ice" legally. Councilman Godwin expressed doubts that the Business Association would come (Continued on page 12)

Outland to Speak Here in August

Congressman George Outland, representative from this district will speak here in August at a public meeting sponsored by the Carmel Women's Democratic club, it was announced at a meeting of the organization Friday at Sunset library.

Friday's meeting presided over by Miss Clara Kellogg, opened with a reading of the talk Congressman Outland delivered, on post-war problems at Yale University where he received his Ph.D.

The Republican viewpoint on this same topic was heard when Miss Edna Owings read a paper outlining the suggestions that Governor Stassen of Minnesota has put forward as a peace program. Mrs. Frank Farrar read a digest of the important features of the Administration's program incorporated in the "American Charter" which was submitted to Congress by the National Resources Planning Board.

Excerpts giving a comprehensive idea of what the Russians were doing before the war to solve their social problems were read by Mrs. Paul Low from Dean Johnson's book, the Soviet Power.

Sailor Baritone To Sing at C. M. S. Meeting August 1

The Carmel Music Society will hold its sixteenth annual meeting on Sunday afternoon, August 1, at three o'clock, in the Music Room of the Carmel high school. All subscribers to the Society will receive a card inviting them to the business meeting and the musical program which will follow it. Reports of standing committees, election of officers and directors, and announcement of the 1943-44 season are the main matters to be brought before the Society. Noel Sullivan, president, will preside.

Immediately following the business meeting, The Carmel Music Society will present John Laurence, baritone, who will appear as guest artist. Mr. Laurence, young radio and concert artist, is now in active service in the United States Navy. John Barry, columnist, in writing of him says, "there are few people who can sing as he sings."

Mrs. Wellman to Conduct Classes in Aircraft Recognition

Aircraft Recognition School will start Wednesday July 21, at the Sunset school library, for qualified members of the Ground Observer Corps, U. S. Army Air Forces, serving at the Yankee Point observation post.

There will be two classes each Wednesday: afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m. and evenings from 7:30 to 9:30. Upon completion, observers will be able to recognize some forty American and foreign aircraft.

Instructor will be Mrs. Whit Wellman, who recently attended the Aircraft Recognition School at the University of California, given by the Fourth Fighter Command.

Gallup Associate Carmel Visitor Talks to Clubmen

The Gallup Poll of Public Opinion, which appears in more than a hundred leading newspapers of the nation was described as a new device in American journalism and an important factor in aiding the processes of Democracy by Arthur S. Rudd, Gallup associate, at a meeting of the Monterey Rotary club, Thursday noon. Mr. Rudd is spending his vacation in Carmel.

Mr. Rudd told the Rotarians that the American public is the best informed of any national group in the history of the world. The wide circulation of newspapers, the frequent broadcasts of news and opinion on the air and the habit of Americans to air their views to anyone who will listen makes it important that, after issues have been discussed, Mr. Citizen has a place to register his opinion. The Gallup Poll provides such a device, the speaker declared.

"The Gallup Poll is supported by more than one hundred newspapers of varying political faiths. More than a thousand field workers gather the information which is compiled by the Gallup organization. No attempt is made to interview everyone. Scientific tests have proved that only a moderately large cross section is needed to show the trends of public opinion. In more than 140 elections—national, state and local—the Gallup poll has had an average error of less than 4%. It has only been wrong by more than 5% three times. It has never missed in picking the winner in a national election and probably never will be wrong in its election prediction because the Gallup organization is based on scientific principles. Its use of interviewers instead of mail ballots prevents it from making the type of error that sunk the Literary Digest," Mr. Rudd said.

Army Man Tells Son to Join the Navy, 80 Sign Up

Eighty men signed up with the Navy at the Armory in Salinas last month, all of them in the seventeen year old group or candidates for the Sea Bees. Four girls also joined the WAVES, one from Hollister, two from Salinas and Frieda Louise Wildy from Monterey.

A Carmel man, William Bruce Campbell, among the 17 year old enlistees, is regarded as a special feather in the cap of the Navy as he is the son of George A. Campbell, a Captain in the United States Army, and it was on his father's recommendation that he chose the Navy.

Another new recruit going into the Sea Bees as electrician's mate, is George Webber who worked for eight years with the Telephone company in Monterey.

RIBBONS FOR GERRI

Gerri von Flemming, Elaine Carter's year-and-a-half old German shepherd, did very well indeed for himself in the Santa Cruz annual dog show held last Sunday, July 11 at Pogonip Polo field, winning his blue ribbon in the novice group and finishing also as a reserve winner in the dog group.

King Midas discovers that it is possible to have too much gold, and happily throws his great fortune away in exchange for the life of his beautiful daughter in the feature play to be presented by the Scott Marionettes at their little theatre on Ocean avenue Saturday and Sunday at 3:30 and 8 p.m.

The well known adventures of Goldilocks in the house of the Three Bears will also be shown in a fresh and original manner.

These two plays have been presented by the Scott Marionettes to many hundred audiences in California, Oregon and Washington, and have always been received with great enthusiasm.

Ida Knight

By TALBERT JOSSELYN

Last Monday evening Carmel lost one of its fine citizens. After a prolonged illness, Ida Knight passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Robert Welles Ritchie, in Hatton Fields. She was a native of New York, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Knight. Before coming to Carmel ten years ago she lived in Long Beach, California.

In Carmel she was associated with her sister in the Jean Ritchie Yarn Shop in the El Paseo on Dolores street. All who came into that shop to make purchases, or just to look around, will remember this quiet, pleasant, dark-eyed woman with her ready smile. It was a smile that continued despite prolonged physical pain. Hers was the courage of the commonplace, going about her everyday work, regretting that she could not do more. Those who learned to know her well, carried with them a warm, happy feeling for the rest of the day after meeting her in the shop or about the town. And, in our comings and goings, we shall miss her.

July 15, 1943

To the Editor of the Pine Cone:

I would like to make acknowledgment of credit where it is especially due: Many people have praised the smooth mechanics and absence of waits characterizing the recent performances of "Ah, Wilderness." While the little side-stages must be given recognition for their part in achieving this happy result, the secret of the even flow of the play, aside from the tempo attained by the actors, lay in the swift and quiet teamwork of the backstage crew.

Under the stage management of Lloyd Weer, the well-rehearsed details of lighting, scene changes, furniture and properties, costume changes, "curtains," sound effects and entr'acte music were carried out, even at the first performance, with gratifying precision. When it is remembered that a play of this magnitude does not reach Broadway until several weeks of ironing-out performances in up-state or suburban theatres, the smoothness of the four Carmel performances seems a small miracle.

The Pine Cone has already bestowed just praise on our players. Permit me to hoist high the names of both the backstage and "front of the house" crews: Lloyd Weer, William Huggins, Elaine Carter, Ruth Grigg, Martha Bullitt, Loraine Hughes, Conrad Peltz, Sara Hineckley, "Kippy" Stuart, Agnes Baron, Herbert Heron, Fritz Wurmann, Sally Setchell, Marian Dowgaillo, Barbara Bolin, Carol Knapp-Smith, Pat Cutler, Mary Ellen Chynoweth, Gabrielle and Marcia Kuster.

Yours truly,

EDWARD KUSTER

Ed. Note: We had intended to include the names of the backstage and "front of the house" crews in our review of "Ah, Wilderness" but when we discovered that some had joined up after the printing of the programs so that their names were not included, we decided in favor of doing a piece on them and their excellent work in "Ah, Wilderness" this week when we should have time to hunt them out of their modest retirement. Now Mr. Kuster's letter arrives saying very neatly what we wanted to say. All we can add is that it seems to us that the quiet, efficient behind stage people who seldom receive recognition are true lovers of the theatre, since they work purely for the success of the play without the audience applause that so largely compensates the actor. —W.C.

Navyators Travel This Weekend to Play at Moffatt

Two return baseball games at Moffatt Field occupy the Navyators of the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight school at Del Monte Saturday and Sunday, with Ensign Al Pripp and Ensign Jim McDonald named as the starting hurlers by Lieut. Willard Bronson.

Last week Pripp defeated Camp Roberts, and McDonald pitched another 5-hitter in downing the Santa Clara CYO 9 to 1. Pripp is the former baseball captain for the University of Washington and McDonald was a 4-sport star at Ohio State.

The Navyators have won 19 and lost 6 in 25 starts this season.

at 1,000 and then 500 feet.
Following is a list of what comprises an Armored Division: probably no secret to the Japs by now.

One-quarter ton trucks, one-quarter ton amphibians, three-quarter ton trucks, scout cars, half tracks, half tracks towing 37 m.m. guns, light tanks, medium tanks, artillery carriages with armored trailers, engineer bridge trucks, carriages 37-m.m. gun, carriages, 75-m.m. howitzers (named for Carmel), 10-ton wreckers, trucks, air compressors, trucks towing bulldozers, crane trucks, 1½ ton trucks, 2½ ton trucks, 2½ ton trucks with trailers, ambulances.

From this you can see what a big task lies ahead. Governor Warren, in closing, remarked "It is the will of the men to win and to destroy the enemy. We at home cannot let these boys down and there cannot be a let-up in any community."

I am sure anyone having been at Camp Beale to witness this magnificent Division would have been so inspired, he would have immediately purchased the largest United States Government Bond he could afford to buy.

Thanking you again for this most memorable day in my life, I am,

Most sincerely yours,

Laugh Time Packs Them in at the Curran Theatre

From Broadway and the movie lots, the night clubs and radio come the stars and headliners of "Laugh Time," which has scored uproariously at the Curran Theatre as another Paul Small-Fred Finklehoffe revue hit. Together for the first time, Frank Fay, Ethel Waters and Bert Wheeler are the big-three combination at the head of all this all-Broadway-laugh aggregation.

According to the San Francisco critics, "Laugh Time" has not only pace and change of pace, but it has imagination and the flavor that only top-money talent can give a show of this kind. For one thing, Frank Fay and Bert Wheeler are certainly no tyros. They can make an audience scream with laughter, and so can a hundred other comedians. But Fay and Wheeler, alone or together, can establish that intangible rapport that can make the fellow in the audience feel he's part of the performance.

SKETCHES

Nearly every Sunday some lucky soldiers and sailors get sketched in charcoal at the Monterey USO by Happy Boyce Parker, local artist.

Mrs. Parker shuns publicity! merely comes in, fixes up a sketching place near a large window, gets a model boy and goes to work. She turns out a reproduction of a "mug" every fifteen minutes.

Mrs. Parker does this work on her own, and for the boys. The service men really appreciate her, as indicated by the crowd always watching her work. The USO staff is proud of this fine program feature.

SHORE PICTURES IN WINDOW

Two windows in the shop formerly occupied by Tilly Polak showed pictures by Henrietta Shore, Carmel artist, as part of a display arranged by Mrs. David Cleave, interior decorator who has recently become associated with Miss Pauline Hecker at the Mexican Idol in Monterey.

The Ocean avenue window suggested an early American dining room, the side window exhibited Mexican pottery as a foreground for Miss Shore's vivid cactus study.

ous fulminations on the corrugated condition of certain Carmel streets, whereas Mylar, with only the iron grid of the post office windows for protection, is present to all comers during business hours every day of the week except Sunday.

If anything could be done about the condition of certain Carmel streets we should be the last to want the street commissioner to be an absentee office holder, but there is a shortage of manpower and materials owing to the current unfriendly relations existing between us and certain European and Asiatic powers that makes it impossible for the street department to approach the chuck-hole situation in a constructive frame of mind. It's too bad to wear down a good man by wailings about a condition that cannot be alleviated.

On second thought, perhaps it's a good thing the chuck-holes cannot be repaired. They slow up driving speed so that children can continue with partial security to play one-eyed cat in the middle of the street according to the established Carmel custom, and they afford the creeping motorist an opportunity of seeing how his friends' and neighbors' gardens are getting along. And at night, heaven only knows how many lives have been spared gratuitously by these unpremeditated speed traps since dimout regulations and the stubbornness of Carmel pedestrians in holding to their accustomed course in the center of the road have made a lethal combination hard to beat.

Cars Needed for Point Lobos Bird Walk Saturday

Transportation is wanted for the bird walk scheduled for Saturday at Point Lobos, Mrs. Howard Elton Clark, chairman of the Carmel recreation program announced yesterday.

Under the guidance of Laidlaw Williams, Audubon Society president, birds will be studied in the Point Lobos preserve, opened to the public last Sunday after it had been barred to civilians for months because of military restrictions.

Those wishing to make the trip are to assemble at Sunset school at 10 o'clock. Adults who furnish transportation may accompany the bird study group in its walk through the park.

By HELEN COWAN WOOD

The high school dances will start again next Tuesday at the usual time, 8:30 to 12, but in a different place. The Girl Scout house has been chosen for the dance this time, in an effort to find a cozier and more informal setting for a good time than the Sunset gym. A student committee, consisting of Marian Dowgiallo, Joanne Zimmerman, Stanley Ewig, and Norvell Yerkes, is working on arrangements. Attendance will tell whether or not the young people want these dances. It seems a shame to drop them, because they do give the high school crowd a chance to get together. Price of admission will be 25 cents a couple or 30 cents stag, in order to cover rental of the Scout building, but the committee has decided that the extra comforts are worth the extra price.

A number of out-of-town visitors have taken advantage of the employment service at Sunset school office. Any others of high school or upper elementary age are welcome to do so. Our particular demand is for boys to do garden work and cleaning, and for girls to take care of children and help with housework. However, one of the surprising experiences of this office has been the great variety of jobs: from simple carpentry, painting, cutting and sacking wood, to such tasks for the younger boys as exercising dogs and carrying laundry. Stores and offices need cleaning, windows need washing, floors need waxing and oiling. And occasionally there is need for farm help. Be sure to get in touch with this office if you can do any of these things and can take another job; the office is open from 1 to 3 daily, Monday through Friday.

There has been a good response to the needle-and-pin drive to fill the mending kits of soldiers going overseas. Eva Lou Lippi, Edith Stebbins, and Joan and Carlene Daniels have been added to the workers this week, but more girls are needed. We particularly need girls who live in Carmel Woods, the Eighty Acres, or out on the Point, as these are districts not yet covered. The Red Cross office on Dolores street will be glad to have large-eyed needles and pins left there if the girls come to the house when no one is at home.

As always when Mrs. Paul Beygrau is teaching, interesting pieces of pottery are being made in the shop on Mission and 10th streets. This group meets on Wednesday and Thursday from 1 to 4. Although twenty to thirty boys and girls are usually working there, Mrs. Beygrau has each one on individual projects. There is a wide range of ages, up to 12 or 13 years, and both boys and girls.

Probably the most popular summer activity is the game and story period for the small children from 1 to 4 Monday, Wednesday, and Friday on the primary playfield. There are always thirty or more youngsters down there, either in a breathless circle around Miss Schnabel, or in a breathless chase all over the grounds. Friday is the Big Day, usually with some special entertainment in addition to the usual activities. The folk dancing on Tuesday and Thursday mornings is also very well attended, with almost as many as in the afternoon groups. These are mostly older boys and girls, from 8 to 11 years of age.

The new homemaking room at the south end of the Sunset main building is looking very interesting. This is the room which was once the shop, then a music room. The plumbers are at work setting up the cooking units, the carpenter has smoothed over the rough places, and the painters are giving it the final touch with a light, cheerful finish. It should make a very attractive and efficient room for the homemaking courses—and it will be really appreciated, for the homemaking has never had proper equipment and room. Ceilings in the kindergarten and Miss Billington's first grade room are being painted white, and it will be sunny weather in there now every day; the difference in the amount of light is astonishing. The rockwork around the lower playfields is also being mended, and a fence has been built in front of the shop. All these things go on side by side with the recreation program and adult classes, and are a matter of interest to all—every workman has an enthusiastic and admiring audience.

Last Chance to Have Pressure Cookers Tested

Miss Ann Olson, County Home Demonstration Agent, will test pressure cookers and give her last demonstration of pressure cooker canning at Holman's solarium Tuesday, July 20.

Peninsula women may bring their pressure cookers for testing in the morning at 10:30. The canning demonstration will take place at 1:30.

Miss Olson urges that home canners avail themselves of this final opportunity to have their pressure cookers tested as a gauge out of order can subject a family to the risk of botulism poisoning from canned food that has not reached sufficient temperature in preserving process.

Honor Bestowed on Pine Cone Cymbal War Correspondent

The Making of a Reporter, not only a biography, but the story of an era seen through the experienced and humorous eyes of Will Irwin, reporter, press correspondent, editor and author of novels and such best sellers as The Next War, bears on its dedication page the inscription "To My Son, William Hyde Irwin, Engineer Corps, U. S. Army," thus causing a pardonable vicarious thrill in the Carmel Pine Cone Cymbal bosom.

For William Hyde Irwin, Technical Sergeant Bill Irwin, in charge of training young recruits in the camouflage battalion of the Engineer Corps at Davis-Monthan Field, Tucson, Arizona when last heard from, is the Pine Cone Cymbal's foreign correspondent.

One-time editor of the Carmel

"Californian," artist and wood-carver, Bill Irwin left these parts to become editor of "The Runt" in San Francisco. Later, while serving with the camouflage corps in San Joaquin Valley, he started "Chicken Feathers," a spicy journal for which the Pine Cone Cymbal was gratefully exchanged. With his transfer to the desert, and the demise of "Chicken Feathers," he was accorded his official status and these columns have from time to time carried piquant dispatches on desert maneuvers and the accouchement of the battalion's canine mascot.

S. P. COACH SPACE MUST BE RESERVED IN ADVANCE

for trips on or after FRIDAY, JULY 16

- ★ You will need a reservation for coach trips on S. P. trains on and after July 16.
- ★ We cannot make coach reservations by telephone.
- ★ No coach reservations will be made unless you have a ticket.

Many of our trains are overcrowded, with people standing in coaches and sleeping in the aisles. Frequently trains leave people waiting at stations because there is no room for them. Obviously something must be done to correct the situation.

Coach reservations will be made for definite trains, but not for specific cars or seats. This means that you will usually find a seat but there will be times when people will have to stand because of emergencies.

We cannot make coach reservations by telephone because of the load on telephone lines, and no coach reservations will be made unless you have a ticket. You must get your ticket and reservations at an S. P. ticket office. If you now have a ticket you will have to make a reservation.

A SPIDER AND HER WAYS

By PROFESSOR FRANCIS E. LLOYD

Carmel, or, in order to avoid arousing sectional jealousies, the whole Monterey Peninsula, has a large population of spiders, as all good housewives know. And what a nuisance they are, to be sure. But remember that spiders get rid of flies, and they are bad too. So I shall try to persuade you to look at a more interesting aspect of these creatures, especially of one of them which does not bother housewives.

She lives out-doors entirely. She looks, in the twilight, the time when you must observe her if you will learn about her, like a small chestnut on eight legs. The hindermost pair are really more like hands, for it is with these that she manipulates her web. I say "she" because the male spider is very hard to find and is a lazy brute anyway, so we shall pass him up for the moment. She is the orb or geometrical spider, the one which makes the beautiful geometrically patterned web hanging between bushes or elsewhere, and, in early morning, may sometimes be seen bejeweled with dew drops spaced like beads on the web, for which there is a reason.

These spiders like the north side of a low house with overhanging eaves—an old-fashioned Carmel kind of house, preferably of redwood, which reflects but little light. She loves darkness rather than light, for her deeds are evil, that is from the anarachnoidal point of view. One morning I discovered two of them which had made beautiful large webs about 20 inches in diameter, one near my front door (in the way of course, so that I accidentally broke it entering that night). The next night, about eight o'clock, I watched for the spider which had made the web to emerge from her hiding place, where she always spends the day, from 5 a.m. to 8:40 p.m. (nearly 16 hours rest). I finally found her fiddling around, without much apparent purpose. But on searching I found that she had strung a strong web about six feet long from one timber to the other along, and parallel to, the eave of the roof. From one end she had strung a strong web obliquely across the door space out of reach of my head. Apparently she had learned a lesson. From the other end she had strung another web to meet the first, low down on the side of my house. Here, then, she had a foundation triangle of strong cables standing obliquely to the wall of the house. That was all she did that night, except perhaps to add other webs I could not find. This was about 9:30, and I had to use a flashlight to watch her.

The next night she emerged from her nook (I had spotted the place where she roosted by now) at about 8:40—the sky was overcast; her regular time for getting on the job is a little later on clear nights—and she at once began to weave her trap web. Her first task was to spin a web between the three cables laid on the night before. Don't forget that this is all done in the dark. This angular web was then stayed by stringing other shorter cables from it to the main cables. Within this polygon she now spun webs like the spokes of a wheel which were run to the approximate center of the polygon—18 of them. This was accomplished by 9:40.

Her method of manipulation is well worth a description, for which we have no space here.

What next, I wondered. Well, the next move was to make a flat spiral web beginning at the center, counter clockwise, while I watched her. First she made several turns close together to serve as a platform where she sits during the night, awaiting prey. After this is done, she spreads the turns. Crawling out on a spoke, she attached the web about 1½ inches out. Then she went back to the center and out to the next spoke of the wheel to fasten it, all the time holding the web she was spinning free of entanglement by means of a hindermost leg. Thus preceeding, she

POETRY

ON MISSING THE BACH FESTIVAL

*You who are strangers here cannot perceive
What lofty thing is lacking at this hour!
You see a little town with shops and pines,
A hill-topped street descending to the sea—
You love it so—but ah, you cannot grieve
For what you have not known—for symphony,
For strains of counterpoint among the trees,
For flutes with silver-clear melodic lines,
The Brandenburg Concertos practised long
And ardently; for noble concerts given,
And that great concord of majestic song
That must have gladdened Serra in his heaven!
Now summer weaves her sorrow through the leaves
And Bach is stilled—and only birds sing on.*

—DORA HAGEMEYER

ETCHING

*I lie on a hill watching two butterflies
Weaving yellow wings in joy, under the wind;
The whisper of wheat-grass is insistent. High above
Three or four bombers plow the blue sky, their shadows
Black on the hills:
Well, it is summer.*

*I lie on a crumbling slab of concrete, once a wall of a house:
Scrub-brush, weeds, a few flowers
Cover the stair . . . I sought for a story, a hearthstone,
But nothing was left:*

*Far out, and over the city,
Silver insects drone above the wind, watching the sea:
The sun is setting over the dark towers, and strangely
The bright wings flash yellow.*

—WILLIS EBERMAN

SHEEP AT NIGHT

*They came moon-still
Along the yarrow-lit hill,
Their white wool a portion
Of moon-white air
Across the night's sill;
They stood under a cedar bough,
But did not see the dark branch move
Across the pale savannahs of the moon.*

REVIEWS

made a spiral web of five or six widely-spaced turns each 1½ inches from the other. This spiral web was made to serve as a scaffolding—something to hang on to while she made the next piece of construction which was a second spiral web of many turns and of entirely different character from the first. All the webs made till this moment were smooth, glistening, rather inelastic. One can touch them or even pull on them gently without having them stick to the fingers or breaking, and for this reason would be useless for catching flying insects, upon which the spider depends largely for food. They would merely bounce off!

She must now spin a sticky web. In her spinneret she has glands which do her bidding so that when she is ready to spin a sticky web, she can do so. This is, then, the secondary or sticky web she is beginning, but she begins, not at the center, but on the outside. Now we see the purpose of the primary spiral web. With this as a guide, and as a scaffolding to hang on to, she goes back on her previous course, now clockwise, from my point of vision. When first spun, the web appears smooth as did the others, but in the course of eight or ten minutes it begins to show a difference. There is evidently a highly viscous sheath exuded along with and covering the web. This viscous material slowly collects itself into evenly spaced droplets, which, to be seen, must be examined with a lens. The web is now very sticky and it is in the droplets or beads that we see points at which the dew may collect to form the beautiful pattern of which I wrote earlier. Working industriously the spider proceeds from spoke to spoke, at each spoke stopping to pull out the web from her body and to fasten it with a touch of her spinneret. The purpose of pulling out the web, which she does with her hind legs, hand over hand fashion, is partly to provide slack, for it must be noted that this spiral web is not stretched tightly, as are the others, but are slung rather loosely. This, together with the elasticity of the web, allows a good deal of play, so that when an insect flies into it, it sticks to them and recoils. The spider made about 30 to 50 spiral turns around the clock, making a turn in an average of about two minutes, so that in 60 to 100 minutes the job was done. She then took her stance, head down, at the center of the system and, after doing a little manicuring, awaited events.

When a building is complete, the workers pull down the scaffolding. So the spider does. She destroys it as she goes around and when it has become of no further service. One can see the places to which it was attached however, as little bunches of web sticking to the spokes.

But there is another matter of exceeding interest. As I have described to you, the trapping web is slung between cables forming the sides of a triangle. But this is not an equilateral triangle, so that it is the more difficult to pick the true center. It thus happens that the outer urns of the secondary spiral web might run outside the framework if carried out. The spider takes care of this situation by reversing gear, not when the limiting cable is reached, but some time before. She then goes back, properly spacing the new turn with respect to the last. Remember, she does this in practically total darkness. How does she know when to reverse? I am asking you!

When, by chance, a moth or some other kind of insect gets caught, the spider runs to it, rolls it over and over, and wraps it swiftly in a mummy case of web. She can then eat it at leisure. I noted that the spider, which is the star of this performance, caught and wrapped up a caterpillar, and on this she was occupied eating during two nights. To test the rapidity of movement of the spider on the web, I took a fair sized moth and touched it to the web of my spider No. 2—the other member of my troupe—

Scouts Give Up Drive for Funds To Join Chest

Carmel Boy Scouts will abandon their independent drive for funds this year and will join with other organizations which operate under the wing of the Community Chest, O. W. Irwin, chairman of the Carmel district committee, announced this week.

"The committee felt it was the patriotic thing to do to relieve the public of the burden of another campaign for funds," Irwin said in explaining the move.

Other Scout groups of the Peninsula have been member agencies of the Chest heretofore but the Carmel district has always conducted a separate financial campaign. It will now be budgeted with other agencies in the unified Community War Chest drive to be held next fall with a national goal of $125,000,000, more than half of which will be used for support of the various organizations arising from the war emergency.

Budgeting for organizations in this area will be in the hands of a committee recently appointed by the Community War Chest committee headed by Colonel Edwin Landon, of Carmel.

Chairman of the budget committee is Norman Larson, of Carmel Highlands, and members are: Mrs. James Doud, of Carmel, Mrs. Charles C. Shepherd, Jr., of Pebble Beach, Harold Davis, of Carmel, J. D. Thorne, Morgan King, Albert Davis, Mrs. Peter Hay and Norman Hasselo, of Monterey and Pacific Grove.

American Bundles Commended by U. S. Navy

Members of the local Carmel chapter, women who devote some of their time to this laudable endeavor, were much pleased to learn that Bundles for America has received a certificate of Commendation from the United States Navy, Third Naval District, New York, for outstanding voluntary services contributing to welfare.

In presenting the certificate, Rear Admiral E. J. Marquart, Commandant, Third Naval District, said:

"This is a war which demands the utmost of all of us. By the efforts of Bundles for America the personnel of the navy is assisted in carrying on its share of the task of winning the final victory."

This home front service, accredited by the President's War Relief Control Board, serves the armed forces in many ways—one in particular the contribution of knitted garments. At the present time there is an urgent need for volunteer workers in this field, women who will devote a part of their time in knitting helmets, sweaters, gloves etc., in order that the required quota may be reached. Yarn will be issued on request. Books with directions for knitting are on sale at the Carmel branch, next door to the Western Union, Dolores street.

Adriani to Speak On Baudelaire for Fighting French

On Saturday, June 17, at 3 p.m., Bruno Adriani, Carmel's distinguished art connoisseur, author and lecturer, will speak on the subject of Baudelaire at the home of the Misses von Kleinschmidt, at Hatton Road and Stuart Place.

M. Adriani's lecture will be delivered in French, and the total proceeds of a voluntary silver offering will be donated to the cause of the Fighting French.

Bar Z Next First Theatre Offering "Wedding" Once More

"The Fatal Wedding" has its twenty-second and final performance tomorrow night, July 17, at the First Theatre, Monterey. From the advance sale of seats, this closing performance of the Gold Coast Troupers melodrama will be packed to capacity. Directed by Irene Alexander, "The Fatal Wedding" has drawn hilarious, cheering capacity audiences week after week since its opening on May 14.

The regular Sunday performance at the First Theatre has to give way for an all-day and all-evening rehearsal of "The Boss of Bar Z."

The Troupers of the Gold Coast at the historic First Theatre, Monterey, will open in their new show, "The Boss of Bar Z," on next Friday evening, July 23, and will play through Saturday and Sunday nights. Robert Douglas Hume, on vacation from his post in the drama department of the University of North Carolina, is directing the production. Douglas Hume is well known to the First Theatre public for his brilliant acting with the Troupers during the last two summers, when he played various roles from villain, hero, character parts to M. C. of the olio.

The cast chosen by Mr. Hume for "The Boss of Bar Z" will show some surprising new talent as well as some of the seasoned and proven Gold Coasters. It includes Allan Sonin as Frank Marvel, Foreman of Bar Z; Darwin Law as Richard Huntley, villain; Douglas Hume as Doc Rye; Jimmie Jensen as Moqui, Mexican villain-accomplice; Betty Elder as Doringa Curtis, the "Boss of Bar Z"; Carmen Mercante as Dolly, cow-girl; Wilma Bott as Arabella Marshall; Phyllis Setzer as Lydia, her daughter; Margaret Hartigan as Elena, the Mexican girl; Mathilda Lopez as Katie, the cook.

A fourteen-act olio of all new acts is promised.

Campaign to be Conducted for Parish School

By FATHER O'CONNELL

Some few months ago the sisters of Notre Dame opened a school for what they thought would be a few children, as was mid-term. On the first day they had fifty enrolled. Many others could not be taken because of inadequate accommodations. The demand has been so great on the part of the community generally that something has to be done to make provisions for them.

One does not have to possess prophetic vision to realize that after the war many substantial families with children will live here. Experience has shown that a parochial school is very often a determining factor in their decision to live in a certain community.

With that in mind, the members of the Mission parish have decided to busy themselves now and raise enough money so that when peace comes a parochial school will become a certainty. Many meetings have been held and great enthusiasm has been shown in the project. Plans have been laid to start a drive for funds immediately.

Leading statesmen and educators are in accord that moral training is absolutely necessary in our educational system if stability and justice are to become a fact, not in word only but in deed also, in the post war planning. To mention just a few of the names of men who have come out forcefully for those ideas the following is sufficient: President Roosevelt, Lord Halifax, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Dr. Hutchins, Mortimer Adler, J. Edgar Hoover, Winston Churchill, and many others.

Governor Warren quite recently came out strongly on the occasion of his signing the bill to release children for an hour a week for religious instructions not within the school grounds, but to be provided by the various churches in their own places. As a practical man of law, he knows the need.

Any persons who wish to make this campaign a success are cordially invited to cooperate, as it is no doubt a move for the building up of a better community, and a better world with a knowledge of the ten commandments among our fellow men.

The inquiries are as urgent on the part of non-Catholics as they are on the part of Catholics. Those people wish their children to be raised with a moral background.

Frederick Clapp Called East

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clapp, who have been making their headquarters at Hotel La Playa for the past two weeks, were obliged to abandon their plan to spend the summer months in Carmel, owing to business which summoned Mr. Clapp back to New York, where he is curator of the Frick Collection. Enroute they will make a short visit in Santa Barbara.

Brumfield House Guests

Mrs. Frank Gerbode and Mrs. Roberto Escamilla returned to San Francisco after spending the past weekend as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brumfield in their Scenic Drive home.

WAC Recruiters Depart

Lt. Martha Millis Williams and Lt. Tessadean Blasingame left this weekend to return to Daytona Beach, Florida, where they will be stationed for the coming month, following their service on the Monterey Peninsula and in Salinas respectively as recruiting officers for the WAC.

Lt. Blasingame, the daughter of Mrs. L. B. Bailey, former Carmel resident, now making her home in Salinas, will pause enroute to visit her sister, Carol Tindell, in Phoenix, Ariz., where she is an instructor in instrument flying at Sky Harbor.

Newest Carmel Pre-Flighters

The latest class of cadets entering pre-flight pilot training at the San Antonio Cadet Center includes two lads from Carmel: Spencer R. Kern, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Kern, San Luis avenue and Carmel Woods, and Samuel Kasper Wight, son of Mrs. Charlotte Hurd Wight of Scenic Drive and Isabella and the late Howard Marshall Wight, professor of wild life management in the School of Forestry and Conservation at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Cadet Kern grew up in Carmel graduating from both Sunset school and Monterey high, and earning an enviable reputation as a tennis champion. He attended the University of California and Stanford, entering the army last February. His preliminary training was received at Lubbock, Tex.

Cadet Wight left his studies at Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Michigan, where he was taking preliminary flight training, to enter glider mechanics at Shepard Field, Texas, from which he has now been transferred to preflight school at San Antonio. A brother, Howard Morgan Wight, is now completing his basic aviation work at Clearwater, Florida, and expects soon to enter preflight school. His sister, Martha, a student in Hillsdale school, Michigan, is at present vacationing in Carmel with her mother and younger brother Murrey. Murrey will enter Carmel high school in the fall.

Mrs. Millis at Pendle Hill

Mrs. Vera Peck Millis is now at Pendle Hill, Wallingford, Pa., near Swarthmore, within ten minutes' walk of her daughter Ann, a student there. Jane Millis is at present in New York, engaged in activities for Russian Relief.

Betty Wheeler to S. F.

Betty Wheeler has returned to her numerous duties in connection with the war effort in San Francisco, after a vacation of two months spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wheeler at Pebble Beach.

Edward Weston Goes Sailing

Edward Weston is back from a trip to Los Angeles where he accompanied his son, Leo, on the maiden voyage around Los Angeles harbor of Leo's newly built 32-foot ketch. Carmel will remember the boat-building activities of Leo and Sam Coblenz that used to go on here and the craft Leo made for John Steinbeck.

Off for the East

The Misses Catharine and Jessie Colvin are leaving this week for the east, with plans to return in the fall and again occupy their Carmel Way and Pebble Beach home.

Hitchcock Boys Here

Vernon and Lytton Hitchcock, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Hitchcock, were Carmel visitors last week. Sergeant Lytton Hitchcock departed after the weekend, returning to Stockton Field, where he is serving as bomber crew chief. Vernon came here from Kohler Field, Sacramento, where as a member of the now disbanded V.O.C., he was in training in the signal corps and won an award for marksmanship. He leaves this week for San Francisco, where he plans to enlist in the Merchant Marine.

Joins "Don't Travel" League

Mrs. Helene Landry is back at her post in Fortier's, after a month spent in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, having a glorious reunion with her numerous brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews. It was her first trip home in seventeen years and was worth all the difficulties encountered in coming and going. However, now that she is safely back in Carmel, she is a stout advocate of the "Don't travel" slogan.

CARMEL BY THE SEA
CALIFORNIA

THAT NIGHT A MIRACLE HAPPENED

EXCERPT from a letter from Africa . . .

"It is night in a field dressing station. They bring in a soldier who's gone into shock. He looks like he is dead. And they start plasma flowing into him and back he comes. I tell you there are a lot of fellows coming back from Africa who wouldn't have returned if plasma wasn't on hand. That plasma is miraculous NOT ONCE but many times by the hundreds, before the tired eyes of doctors and nurses, blood plasma has performed its miracles in battle zones on land and sea.

Look at the record. In this most merciless war of all time, modern medicine has cut the death rate of wounded men from the 1918 figure of 7% to less than 1% today.

Beyond price. In this most expensive war of all times, the most priceless medicament is plasma—dried blood. Its sole supply is from voluntary blood donors.

The need is great. Northern California quota is 5000 Blood donors a week for the Red Cross Procurement Centers in San Francisco and Oakland.

What to do. Arrange for an individual blood donation at your nearest Red Cross Chapter or come as a group, as many clubs, churches, labor unions and fraternal organizations have done.

Why you MUST come to San Francisco or Oakland. Blood procurement centers must be located near dried blood laboratories. There are only nine such laboratories in the United States. California has two of these—one in Berkeley—one in Los Angeles.

Cut out and mail in the coupon appearing below. You will get a prompt reply. If you live some distance away from the Bay area, you can use the coupon, make arrangements through your local Red Cross, or phone for an appointment. Northern California must not fail in its weekly quota of 5000 Blood Donors.

Peggy Converse Weds

Word comes this week of the wedding of Peggy Converse and Donald Porter, formerly of the theatre, now a sergeant in the signal corps. The new Mrs. Porter, whose acting ability won her laurels on the Broadway stage, has many friends in Carmel, where she resided not so long ago. She will be remembered, too, as one of the supporting cast with Judith Anderson in Family Portrait in the Del Monte Summer Theatre.

Mary Helen's Mother Visits

Mrs. Ruth Alexander paid a weekend visit to her daughter, Mary Helen (Mrs. Jack Jordan), departing on Monday for her home in Boston, Massachusetts. The Jack Jordans have given up their home in Manhattan Beach and are transferring their household belongings to Carmel, which will be their headquarters until the first of the year. Jack is transferring from his former post with Douglas Aircraft in the south to an aircraft company in the Bay region, where the family plans to reside after January. Mary Helen is recuperating after a sojourn in the Community Hospital at the home of Jack's mother, Mrs. John B. Jordan.

The Peter Stackpoles Here

Weekend guests of Edward and Charis Weston at the Highlands were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stackpole and their baby daughter. Peter, son of the noted sculptor, Ralph Stackpole, is the nationally famed photographer, on the staff of Life magazine.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

So keen is the appreciation shown for flowers now being distributed among the hospitalized service men by the Gray Ladies that an acute shortage has developed. With Carmel gardens full of bright summer flowers now, this service at least needn't be rationed. If it is impossible for citizens to bring their own bouquets to Red Cross headquarters on Thursdays and Fridays, a phone call to 1415-J, giving the location of your garden will bring grateful response from a volunteer picker.

To Compliment the Howards

Mrs. Elizabeth Cass was hostess last Thursday between 5:30 and 7 at the Carmel Art gallery to a group of friends gathered to congratulate Lt. and Mrs. Loren Howard, honeymooning in Carmel for a week following their wedding on July 4th in the East Garrison chapel at Camp Roberts. Mrs. Howard's former home in Carmel, on Scenic Drive, is now occupied by Col. William Crofton. The couple departed on Saturday to take up residence on their newly purchased ranch at Paso Robles.

New Geisen Home

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Geisen, Jr., have purchased the former home of Bob Edgren at San Antonio and 11th, where Mrs. Geisen and the two children, John III and Mary Lee, plan to reside while Mr. Geisen serves with the navy. Mrs. Geisen is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown and sister of Mrs. James C. Doud.

Tarrant-Wagner Wedding

A strikingly lovely bride was Patricia Ann Tarrant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tarrant of Carmel, when she exchanged vows with Corporal C. Warren Wagner of Roseville, in a ceremony performed by the Reverend Theodore Bell, and witnessed by about fifty guests, at 2 p.m., Sunday, July 11, in St. John's Chapel, Del Monte.

Before a candle lighted altar massed with white daisies, the bride was given in marriage by her father. A veil of rare Belgian princess lace, worn by successive brides in the family of Patricia's friend, Sally Fry, and lent for the occasion, was held in place by clusters of orange blossoms. Her gown was of starched chiffon, with fitted bodice edged by picoté ruching and long bishop sleeves, and she carried a spray of gardenias and bouvardia with white satin streamers.

Helen Wetzel, as bride's attendant, wore a bouffant gown of embroidered blue marquisette, with a flower arrangement in her hair of the same blue delphiniums and pink larkspur that formed her bouquet. Best man was Sergeant Harry Campbell.

A reception attended by members of the family and close friends was held in the Pine Room at Pine Inn. Among those present to drink a health to the young couple and share the wedding cake, topped by its miniature bride and groom were: Mr. and Mrs. Tarrant; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner of Rosedale, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Milam of Palo Alto, uncle and aunt of the bride and Ensign Stanley Rasmussen of the Del Monte Pre-Flight school, former football coach at Roseville high school.

Later in the afternoon, Corporal and Mrs. Wagner departed for a week's honeymoon at Yosemite, Pat's going-away costume a white wool suit by Lanz, with water melon red trim and tiny white hat adorned with feathers and veil of the same vivid red. Upon their return, the young couple will make their home at Junipero and Third streets while Corporal Wagner continues to be stationed at the Presidio of Monterey with the transportation department.

Auxiliary Card Party

The Allied Card Party sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' church, with its patriotic motif, takes place on Wednesday, July 21st, at the Parish House of All Saints' on Monte Verde, the time 2 p.m. Tea will be served at 4. Tickets may be obtained by phoning Miss Mary Barnes at 788-J.

Mrs. Grigsby's Daughter a Visitor

Mrs. F. M. Lansdowne arrived last Friday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Louise Grigsby, the first part of which will be spent in Carmel Valley. Mrs. Lansdowne, the former Agnes Grigsby, is the wife of Lt. Commander Lansdowne, now stationed in Charleston, S. C., in charge of the repair department of the navy yard there.

Engagement Tea for Winifred Stilwell

Announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Winifred Stilwell, daughter of Lt. General and Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell, was made to a group of her close friends at a tea given in the family home on Carmel Point Tuesday afternoon of this week. A miniature wedding scene among the floral decorations of the tea-table and individual old-fashioned bouquets, each containing a small card, brought word of the impending event to the guests.

At a simple home ceremony, to be held on July 24, Miss Winifred Stilwell will become the bride of Captain William Ellis Cox, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edwin Cox, of Beverly Hills.

Captain Cox, now stationed in Berkeley, is a graduate of U.C.L.A. and served formerly in one of the three infantry regiments of the 7th Division under the command of General Stilwell at Fort Ord. He has recently returned from a year's service overseas.

The bride-to-be is the second daughter of Lt. General and Mrs. Stilwell. An elder sister, Mrs. E. F. Easterbrook, resides at present in Carmel with her two small children, and a younger sister, Alison Stilwell, has just returned from a tour of the east where her paintings done in the Chinese manner have not only won laurels for the artist, but have contributed substantially to the fund for Chinese relief. An elder brother, Lt. Col. Joseph Stilwell, Jr., is now serving in China with his distinguished father, while Ben, a younger brother, is a student in Carmel high school.

The Clark Family Returns

Mrs. Howard E. Clark, accompanied by her son, Elton, and little daughter, Priscilla, returned to Carmel on Tuesday after a two weeks' absence. The two weeks were spent by Elton at Camp McCoy, on Strawberry Lake, attending the Y.M.C.A. encampment. Mrs. Clark attended the Institute of Foreign Relations at Mills College for ten days, following which she was a guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Keyes, of Atherton, with whom Priscilla had been vacationing.

Sen. and Mrs. McGavick in Carmel

House guests of Mrs. Michael Mikulak from Friday to Tuesday of the past week were State Senator Leo McGavick and Mrs. McGavick of Washington. This was their initial visit to the Peninsula, and their hostess had the pleasure of introducing them to their first abalone as well as the local points of interest. The senator, a golf enthusiast, spent much of his time trying out the nearby golf courses. Also a weekend guest at the Mikulak home this weekend was Yeoman Wilfred Roadman, a fellow student of Major and Mrs. Mikulak at the University of Oregon.

CHURCH OF THE WAYFARER

"The Father of English Hymnody" will be the sermon theme on Sunday morning at the Church of the Wayfarer. It is the 269th Birthday Anniversary of Isaac Watts, author of "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," and many of the most beloved hymns of the Christian Church. The story of his life is even more inspiring than his hymns. Elinor Smith, as guest organist, will play the following selections: "Andante Con Moto," Calkin; "If With All Your Hearts," Mendelssohn; "Andante," Romberg; "Cum Sancto," Mozart. The service is at eleven; visitors are cordially invited.

Here From Los Gatos

Kit Cooke and Bonnie Gottfried made a brief call on Carmel over the last weekend, driving here from Los Gatos on Friday and returning the following day. The home which Kit Cooke shares with her mother, Mrs. Grace MacGowan Cooke and her aunt Alice MacGowan, occupies adjoining acres to the Gottfried's Los Gatos ranch, where Bonnie is holding the fort while her three menfolks help win the war. Captain Lee Gottfried is at present in the school of engineering at Fort Belvoir, Virginia; Freer, their elder son, is at Hawthorne, near Los Angeles, in the lofting department of Northrup Aircraft; Hugh is completing his basic training in the signal corps at Camp Swift, Texas.

Bob Telfer New Pine Inn Mgr.

Bob Telfer, brother of Ronald Telfer whose talents in the field of drama won him a wide circle of friends in Carmel, has accepted the post of manager at Pine Inn.

Pebble Beach Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Cates arrived last week from New York, to spend some time in their Pebble Beach home.

Marie Tanous Weds

In a ceremony performed by Father Michael O'Connell in the Carmel Mission at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, July 14, and attended by well over fifty friends and members of her family, popular and attractive Marie Tanous became the bride of Lieutenant William P. Woolsey, U. S. Army.

Attired in a wool suit of powder blue, with gold trim and black accessories, and wearing white orchids, Marie was given in marriage by her brother, Harry Tanous. Her sister-in-law, La Vergne, wife of Walter Tanous, was her only attendant, clad in navy blue with a corsage of pink roses. Best man was Willard Whitney.

A reception followed, held in the San Carlos street home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanous, all who had witnessed the ceremony present for the cutting of a beautiful bride cake and a toast to the young couple.

The new Mrs. Woolsey, a native of North Dakota, is the daughter of Mrs. D. Tanous of Carmel and the late Deep Tanous, and has made her home here for the past seven years.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tanous, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanous and their daughter, Ann Marie, other members of her family residing on the Peninsula are Sgt. and Mrs. Willard Twitcheil (Margaret Tanous) of Carmel and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tanous of Monterey.

Lt. Woolsey, a native of New York, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Woolsey of that city. A former member of the N. Y. National Guard, he has served five years in the U. S. artillery. He was stationed at Fort Ord a year and a half ago, and has recently returned from nine months' overseas duty in the South Pacific.

After a brief honeymoon, Mrs. Woolsey will continue for the present to make Carmel her home.

To Summer in Lazycroft

Mrs. T. S. Bell of Pasadena, accompanied by her sister, Miss Helen Freeman, arrived last week to occupy Lazycroft, the Bell home on Lopez street, until November. They will be joined later by Mr. Bell. This marks the 27th year since the Bell family began summering in Carmel.

Bill Bryant Here

In Carmel on a brief leave from his first class petty officer duties in the Navy this week is Bill Bryant, paying a visit to his bride, his mother, Mrs. F. W. Bryant Sr., and his sister, Mrs. Patrick Rioridan.

Carol Wogenstahl to N. Dakota

Mrs. J. A. Canoles spent last Monday in San Francisco, seeing her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Wogenstahl (Carol Canoles) off for Jamestown, North Dakota, to join her husband, Sergeant Wogenstahl, now training for the air corps there. At the end of his basic training period, Carol plans to visit his family in Cincinnati.

A farewell party was tendered Mrs. Wogenstahl last Friday evening by the hostess staff of Carmel USO, among whom she has been an active member for many months.

During their stay in San Francisco on Monday, Mrs. Canoles and her daughter had a brief visit with Madeline McDonogh, whose talents as a dancer not so long ago gave so much pleasure to Carmel audiences.

Captain's Bars for Holland Wilder

Lt. Holland Wilder, son of Mrs. Cree Wilder, became a captain in the U. S. Army Air Corps last week at the Portland Air Base.

House Guest for Sally

Jinx Murphy arrived on July 7 from Hayward to spend two weeks with her friend, Sally Setchel, the daughter of Mrs. W. Flanders Setchel, in their home on Lincoln and 11th streets. Sally plans to accompany her friend back to Hayward and spend the following two weeks as Jinx' guest there.

No. 6891

In the Matter of the Guardianship of the Estate of ALICIA ORCUTT, a Minor.

Notice of Hearing of Petition for Order Authorizing the Leasing of Undivided Interest of Minor in Certain Real Property

MONTEREY COUNTY TRUST & SAVINGS BANK, as Guardian of the Estate of Alicia Orcutt, a minor, having filed herein its verified petition praying for an Order to lease certain real property belonging to said estate, in said petition and hereinafter described, and alleging that it will be for the advantage of said estate to lease said real property,

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to all persons interested in the estate of said Alicia Orcutt, a minor, to appear before the said Superior Court in the Courtroom thereof at the Courthouse in the City of Salinas, State of California, on the 19th day of July, 1943, at ten (10:00) o'clock A.M., then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the undivided 1/15 interest of the estate of the said minor in and to the real property hereinafter described should not be leased by the Guardian of the estate of said minor for the period of three (3) years, commencing November 1, 1943, on an annual share rental basis, whereby the estate of said minor will receive 1/15th of the 33-1/3% of the share rental which the Lessee will pay for that portion of the demised premises which is planted to beans; 1/15th of the 25% of the share rental which the Lessee will pay for that portion of the demised premises which is planted to lettuce, peas, beets and other summer crops, and 1/15th of all beet tops grown on said demised premises during the term of the proposed lease; that the other terms and conditions of the proposed lease are fully set out in "EXHIBIT A" which is attached to and made a part of said petition of said Guardian, on file herein, to which petition reference is hereby made for further particulars:

Said real property is described as follows, to-wit:

That certain real property situate, lying and being in Rancho Bolsa del Potrero y Moro Cojo, in the County of Monterey, State of California, being a part of Subdivision 4, as said subdivision is shown and so designated on that certain map entitled "Map of Partition of Lot 4 of Bolsa Potrero y Moro Cojo Rancho" filed for record November 30, 1908, in Volume 1 of Surveys, at page 72, Records of Monterey County, California, more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

All of said Subdivision 4 of said rancho which is now in the possession of Frank Wimer, the Lessee named in the lease, a copy of which is annexed to the petition on file herein and marked "EXHIBIT A," with the exception of the following:

(a) 53.342 acres of said Subdivision 4 of said rancho which is now in the possession of Manuel Minhoto and which is being used by him for dairying and farming purposes.

(b) 3.48 acres of said Subdivision 4 which is now in the possession of and being used for dairy purposes by J. B. Austin.

(c) the now travelled county road or roads leading through said Subdivision 4

(d) Subdivisions 9 and 10, as said subdivisions are designated on said Partition Map of Lot 4 of said rancho.

Red Cross

By MRS. FRANCES DOUD

Following the monthly meeting of the Mission Trails Red Cross Camp and Hospital Council at the office of Field Director, Norman Gonzales Tuesday at Fort Ord, a tea was held in honor of Miss Selah Chamberlain, National Red Cross Committee Woman and the new council officers: Chairman, Mrs. George Grunnagle of Hollister, Vice-Chairman, Mrs. T. C. Emmons of Salinas, Treasurer, Mrs. Russell Samuels of Los Gatos, Secretary, Mrs. Pearl H. Schulze of Hollister and two new Committee Chairmen, Mrs. Arthur G. Winston, newly appointed Chairman of the Monterey-Pacific Grove Council group. Mrs. Winston supersedes Mrs. Roger Fitch, wife of Colonel Roger Fitch, commanding officer of Fort Ord, as chairman. Mrs. Fitch was forced to resign because of ill health. Mrs. Jennie Menasco the newly appointed Chairman of Watsonville Council group.

Mrs. Mabel Jackson, retiring Chairman of two years' service was especially honored with a presentation of an appropriate gift.

Welcoming the new committee members at the Red Cross house were Colonel Arthur R. Gaines, commanding officer of the Fort Ord Station Hospital, Lt. Colonel William Coughlin, executive officer of the hospital, Major Joseph Weinstein, Chief of Medical Service, Major Morton Murphy, Acting Chief of Surgical Service and the Hospital Red Cross Staff, assisted by the Monterey-Pacific Grove Grey Ladies.

Mrs. for the tea was international in character and furnished by Pvt. Milton Rosenbaum, formerly a hospital patient and a native of Russia. Pvt. Rosenbaum, previously a mandolin instructor with several studios in New York City, played Russian music and a march which he has recently composed and for which he was given signal recognition by the War Department. Private Enrique Ramagosa, patient in the hospital and a native of Cuba, sang Spanish songs and accompanied himself on the guitar. Another patient, Pvt. Luddington, formerly a talented member of the Chattanooga, Tennessee, symphony orchestra, played a number of violin compositions, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Donna Bissett of Monterey.
